Who	Notes

We should merge extractor catalogs into the release branch. There will be a 1.12 release on Monday, November 2.• Storage reporting - which users are generating the most extractor time. Still debugging, but it goes to the extractor events table. Look at the Mongo container to make sure it is not running a colscan. We need to add user_id in order to determine who is generating the most extractor time.• If we take Luigi's version of tracking user_id, we may be able to migrate into the database
Mike L.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Made a PR for the search filters. The metadata has been done, but the autocomplete is not active yet.
